COMPOSITION COURSE BY GRADES First Year The introductory sections on the teaching of composition and corrective English (pages 4-19) in so far as they relate to the work of this grade, are to be considered a part of the course of study for this year. Aims Written There will be no written composition in the first year except as it is correlated with reading in word and sentence building, aside from the copying of occasional short sentences by the end of the year. Oral 1 To encourage pupils to talk freely on account of genuine interest, but always with a definite and clearly formed plan in the mind of the teacher for improving their use of language. 2 To develop distinct articulation, a pleasing tone, correct posture and freedom from selfconsciousness. 3 To make a beginning in securing the sentence sense; that is, to make the child feel the termination of an expressed thought. 4 To eliminate the speech errors assigned for consideration in this year. 5 To require complete statements. Minimum Requirements (The term minimum requirement indicates the least that should be accepted as satisfactory at the end of the specified year. Pages 17-18 should be read in connection with the statement of minimum requirements for this grade.) i Two short, simple sentences on a familiar topic, given without direct aid, and without errors of any kind. Sources of material: Daily life of the child Stories Nature study Picture study Fables Ethics, hygiene,...
