Accountability Office, 2010 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)642177328 Subject: Human capital -- Government policy -- United States. Excerpt: . . . development. However, the plan does not include information on contractors because OMB did not provide explicit instructions to include 17 them, according to EPA officials. The plan has not been updated since 2006, but agency officials told us that they expect a new workforce plan will be completed after EPA develops its next strategic plan in 2010. The Forest Service began its current agencywide workforce planning Forest Service Annually process in fiscal year 2007 with the creation of its Workforce Planning and Issues a 5-Year Program Analysis Branch. In leading the agencys workforce planning, this Agencywide Workforce branch annually develops an analysis of the agencys workforce and issues Plan Using Standard a 5-year plan for the agencys permanent workforce; agency officials told Information from Its us that the analyses and plans are posted on the agencys Web site and 18 Regions, Stations, and were announced through a letter to certain leaders. In October 2009, the Other Units branch also began to produce certain workforce-related statistics on a monthly basis, which officials told us the branch plans to summarize 19 quarterly. The annual workforce analysis provides information on the composition of the agencys workforce nationwide. The workforce analyses and plans do not include information on contractors; agency officials told us that this information is not included because the Forest Service cannot accurately track the FTE hours of contractors. According to the 5-year workforce plan for 2009 through 2013, the 5-year plan complements the analysis by identifying occupation-specific hiring, diversity, and competency needs across the agency, and by serving as...
